

School of Dentistry

DENT-STAR PRIZE – Application Form

Section A: Personal Information

First Name:	Initial:	Last Name:
Home Dept Mailing Address:	Work Telephone:
Supervisor:	Department:
E-Mail:
Degree Program:
Journal Name:	Date Published:

Section B

Please provide a bibliographical sketch including information about previous training and research experience and current training.

--

Section C:

Significance of Paper: Please write a statement describing the relevance/significance of your paper in the broader context of the fields of health research including biomedical, clinical, population health and/or health systems delivery (approximately 250 words). This section must be written by the student.

Section D: Impact Factor of Journal: If appropriate, describe the impact of the journal within the context of the scientific field.

Section E: Your contribution: Please describe your contribution to the work. Describe (1) your experimental input and (2) your role in the writing of the paper.

Section F: Please write a statement in LAY terms/common language describing the research, significance and relevance in the context of health or healthcare delivery to the individual patient. This should allow the average reader to understand why the research is important.

Submission Process:

- a. A completed application form.
- b. A copy of the published article (published in the last 12 months)

All components of the submission are to be submitted electronically as one file in PDF format to Heather Good at hgood@ualberta.ca.